ROCKHAMPTON, the principal port and town of CENTRAL QUEENSLAND, is situated on the south-west bank of the Fitzroy river, about 34 miles from its mouth. By rail from Brisbane 396 miles. It is the outlet for a vast area of pastoral, mining and agricultural country and the starting point of the Central railway, which now extends westward 420 miles to Longreach. It is also connected by rail with Broadmount (25 miles) and Port Alma, which is the deep water shipping port (38 miles). The north coast railway is now being extended towards Mackay, from which place southward the line is also being extended. Anthracite has been found in the vicinity and is expected to become an important export. Population, including suburbs, 36,371. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (A. F. Kent, secretary).

TASMANIA

THIS island is situated at the extreme south of Australia, from which it is distant 120 miles, being separated by Bass Strait.

The area of the state, including the Islands, is 26,215 square miles; the population in 1911 was 191,211.

The Governor is the Rt. Hon. Sir William Grey Ellison-Macartney K.C.M.G.; Lieutenant Governor, Hon. Sir John Stokell Dodds K.C.M.G.

The Agent-General for Tasmania in London is the Hon. Sir John McCall M.D., LL.D. Office, 56 Victoria street S.W.

INDUSTRY.—The industry of the island consists in the rearing of sheep, also the raising of fruit, grain and vegetables. The soil is rich in minerals, coal, copper, silver, tin and gold being raised to a considerable extent; almost the entire trade is carried on with Australia and Great Britain.

COMMERCE.—The principal exports are grain, hides and skins, wool, copper, tin, fruit, jam, timber, bark, gold, silver and hops.

The number of miles of Government railway open for traffic on June 30th, 1911, was 470.

The Export and Import trade of Tasmania during 1912 amounted to £1,509,092.

WESTERN AUSTRALIA

WESTERN AUSTRALIA, the youngest of the Australian States, has, since the discovery of the goldfields some few years ago, made immense strides in population, wealth and importance, and promises to be one of the leading States.

The area is about 975,920 square miles, and the population in 1911 was 282,114.

The Governor is Major-General Sir Harry Barron R.A., K.C.M.G., C.V.O.; Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Edward Albert Stone K.C.M.G

The Agent-General in London is Lieut.-Col. Hon. Sir Newton James Moore K.C.M.G. 15 Victoria street S W.

Minerals.—In 1897 the total amount of gold raised was 603,847 ounces fine; in 1898 the amount had risen to 939,490 oz.; and the total output for 1911 had advanced to 1,370,868 oz. fine, valued at £5,823,075; other minerals are silver, copper, tin & coal.

The forests of Western Australia have splendid timber (principally Jarrah) for export, estimated to occupy 20,400,000 acres.

The number of miles of Government railway open for traffic on June 30th, 1911, was 2,375.

The Export and Import trade of Western Australia during 1912 amounted to £12,958,099.

ALBANY, KING GEORGE'S SOUND, one of the principal summer seaside resorts of the state. Vessels drawing 33 feet come alongside Railway Pier. It is an Admiralty coaling station, and there is a plentiful supply of fresh water for shipping. Liverpool White Star boats make this their port of call both ways every month. German Australian steamers call on their way home and Interstate boats call twice weekly both ways. Is the terminus of the Southern railway, 341 miles south by rail from Perth. Population, 3,211. Here is a Chamber of Commerce.

FREMANTLE (which includes the suburbs of NORTH, EAST and SOUTH FREMANTLE, BEACONSFIELD and RICHMOND), the chief shipping port of the state of Western Australia, is situated at the mouth of the Swan river, about 12 miles from Perth, and is the western terminus of the railway system.

THE HARBOUR. The roadstead is exceptionally well sheltered by a long line of islands and reefs, leaving only one direction from which gales can raise anything like a sea which is inconvenient to shipping. The inner harbour, opened in 1897, consists of the conversion of the originally shallow and useless mouth of the Swan river into a deep and commodious harbour, used by the largest mail and other vessels engaged in trade with Australasia. The entrance is protected by two large rubble moles, the channel between being dredged to an even depth of over 30 feet below low water. Inside the moles are two main quays, the Victoria quay with a length of nearly 5,000 feet, and the North quay with a length of 1,700 feet. In addition is a jetty of 900 feet. The whole of the berthage has an available depth of 30 feet below low water. The Victoria quay is lighted by electricity, and has warehouses and steam cranes, and all the wharves have direct communication with the railway system of the State. An equipment of electric cranes is available. The port is managed by a Harbour Trust. All goods landed or shipped are handled by the Harbour Trust, who give and take receipts for same at the ships' tackle. The Government are constructing a dry dock here. A Chamber of Commerce was established 1873. Ample supplies of coal and water, steam pilot and life boats. All ships' repairs done in the port except docking. Population in 1911, 21,000.

TERRITORY OF PAPUA

NEW GUINEA is the largest island in the world, with the exception of Australia. It is situated about 100 miles north of Queensland, between 0° 0' and 12° 0' south latitude and 130° 50' and 154° 30' east longitude, an area of about 234,786 square miles. The island is divided between Holland, Germany and Great Britain, the extent of the British portion being about 90,540 square miles, and comprising the south-east quarter, together with the important islands of the Woodlark, Trobriand, D'Entrecasteaux and Louisiade Groups. The Federal Government of the Commonwealth of Australia took over the control of the Territory in 1901, and in 1906 it was renamed by proclamation "The Territory of Papua."

The ports of entry are Port Moresby, Samarai and Bonagai (on Woodlark Island) and Daru (on Daru Island).

The exports consist of gold, copper, copra, pearl shell, india-rubber, sisal hemp, sandal wood and pearls. Mail communication is kept up by steamers; the approximate time of post with London is about eight weeks. Messrs. Burns, Philp & Co. Limited have six-weekly steam communication between Sydney, Brisbane, Cairns, Port Moresby, Samarai and Bonagai, returning same way. They have also a monthly steam service between Sydney, Brisbane, Cairns, Port Moresby, Thursday Island, Java and Singapore. The Royal Dutch Packet S. N. Co. have a monthly steam service between Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, Townsville, Port Moresby, Thursday Island and Java and a return monthly the same way, but excluding Townsville on the return. Messrs. Burns, Philp & Co. have also a small coastal steamer which visits all important coastal ports (besides Samarai, Port Moresby, Woodlark Island, Daru and Thursday Island), and which connects with the two other services mentioned above.

Total imports 1912, £235,369.

Total exports 1912, £99,990.

The Lieutenant-Governor is J. H. P. Murray esq.

DARU is an island and port of entry, and the only harbour in the western portion.

NORTHERN TERRITORY

The NORTHERN TERRITORY, formerly under the jurisdiction of South Australia, was transferred to the Commonwealth Government in January, 1911, and consists of that portion of South Australia which lies north of 26° South latitude and between the 129th and 138th degrees of East longitude. The area is 523,620 square miles, and the population in 1911 was 3,310.

The mineral output consists of gold, tin and wolfram. Other industries are the rearing of horses, cattle and sheep.

The number of miles of Government railway open for traffic in 1911 was 146.

The Export and Import trade of the NORTHERN TERRITORY during 1912 amounted to £77,236.

DOMINION OF NEW ZEALAND

THE Dominion of New Zealand comprises two large islands, known as the North and South Islands, with one of smaller size called Stewart Island. The Islands form one extended line for a distance of nearly 1,200 miles; their average breadth is about 120 miles, but no part is anywhere more distant than 75 miles from the coast. There are a number of out-lying islands included within the boundaries of the Dominion, the Chathams, Rarotonga and Niue being the most important. Their area is nearly 105,000 square miles—almost equal to that of Great Britain and Ireland. The total population in 1911 was 1,107,811.

The Governor is the Rt. Hon. the Earl of Liverpool K.C.M.G., M.V.O.

The High Commissioner for the Dominion of New Zealand in London is the Hon. Thomas Mackenzie, 13 Victoria street S W.

The number of miles of Government railways open for traffic on 31st March, 1913, was 2,851.

An interesting industry of the country is the collecting of Kauri gum. which is formed of the turpentine that has exuded from the Kauri tree. This gum is found only in the Auckland provincial district, and is collected mostly from, or near, the surface of the ground, and gives employment to 4,000 or 5,000 people. The gum is used principally in the manufacture of high class varnish.

Mineral productions are gold, silver, antimony and coal.

The total number of sheep owned in 1911 was 23,996,126.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

The total trade of the Dominion of New Zealand during 1912 was valued at £42,747,155.

AUCKLAND. — This city stands on two harbours – Waitemata and Manakau. An arm of the former connects it with the rivers Thames and Piako, presenting water-carriage through 50 miles of country. The eastern (Waitemata) harbour perhaps deserves to rank as the finest in New Zealand, but the western (Manakau) is a fine ocean inlet, well suited for a fleet of steamers, and opening a short marine highway to New Plymouth and all the ports to the south. It has railway communication with Wellington.

Population of Auckland city (1913), 47,783; suburbs, 62,199. Here is a Chamber of Commerce.

Lloyd's Agents at Auckland, The Campbell & Ehrenfried Co. Limited, Strand arcade.

DUNEDIN is the principal manufacturing city in the Dominion. The population is (1912 census): city, 47,529; suburbs, 16,708; (1913) city, 48,988; suburbs, 18,302. The city is situated at the head of the Otago Harbour; Port Chalmers is the port on the lower harbour. The largest vessels can, during all weathers, with ease and safety proceed to Port Chalmers wharves on a draught of 26 feet, and to Dunedin on a draught of 21½ feet. At Port Chalmers there are two dry docks, the "Otago," in which vessels up to 512 feet long can dock, and the "Port Chalmers," which will dock vessels up to 335 feet long. Dunedin is the head quarters of the Union Steamship Company. It possesses the chief university of the Dominion, extensive woollen and paper mills, iron, cement, rope and chemical works, foundries &c. Dunedin offers an unexceptionable field for commercial and manufacturing enterprise, and the fostering of new industries on account of the cheap electric power which is generated by neighbouring rivers and streams, and supplied by the City Corporation at extremely low prices. Dunedin is the outlet for a large and rich agricultural and pastoral country. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (Peter Barr, secretary). Lloyd's Agent, George Lyon Denniston, Bond street.

NELSON (NELSON), population (1911), including suburbs, 8,234, is situated on the margin of a snug dock-like harbour at the bottom of Blind Bay, 90 miles west of Wellington. The original entrance to the harbour is practically closed, being only used by small craft. A new entrance has been cut through the boulder bank, with a top width of 450 feet and a bottom width of 350 feet, with 15 feet at L.W.O.S.T., equal to 27 feet at H.W.S.T., capable of taking vessels of 460 feet in length, and a maximum draught of 23 feet. There is a strong current, and a pilot is necessary. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (W. S. Hampson, secretary).

NEW PLYMOUTH, the capital of the province of Taranaki, is situated near to the Sugarloaf Islands, and about 150 miles from Auckland, via Manukau. The population (1911), 5,283. It is a breakwater harbour for vessels up to 2,000 tons. Steamers run regularly to and from the New Zealand ports. New Plymouth is the centre of the dairying and butter producing district of the North Island. The soil in the neighbourhood is fertile, and produces all kinds of European vegetables and fruits. The Waimate plains, lying between New Plymouth and Patea, are of extraordinary fertility. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (H. Bedford, secretary).

OAMARU, population (1911), 5,152; situated in the extreme north of Otago, is a well-built town, quarries of good stone being adjacent. It is the shipping port of a large pastoral, agricultural and mineral district; formerly an open roadstead, but there is now a breakwater harbour perfectly safe for vessels of 8,000 tons. Here is a Chamber of Commerce (J. H. Babington, sec.).

MINERAL PRODUCTS.—The mineral production of the Dominion of Canada is increasing yearly. The yield of silver heads the list, next comes gold, nickel, copper, lead. Coal is mined and petroleum is found. Other important items are asbestos, corundum, natural gas, phosphates, salt, mica, talc, graphite, pyrites, gypsum, mineral pigments &c. It is anticipated that with the present activity the yield of gold, silver, nickel, copper and lead will rapidly assume larger proportions. The total value of the mineral production in 1912 was $133,127,489 (metallic, $61,177,989; non-metallic, $71,949,500). The chief articles were: Gold, $12,559,443; silver, $19,425,656; coal, $36,349,299; nickel, $13,452,443; copper, $12,709,311; asbestos, $2,979,384; lead, $1,597,554.

COMMERCE.—The principal industry of the Dominion is undoubtedly agriculture, and cereals of all kinds, as well as dairy produce and cattle, are raised to an enormous extent, and the exports are very considerable; second to these are the timber trade, the fisheries and the fur trade.

The Export and Import trade of Canada during 1912 amounted to $874,637,794.

MONTREAL, on the river St. Lawrence, on the Grand Trunk-Canadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Central Vermont, Canada Atlantic, Western terminus Intercolonial and Northern terminus of the Rutland Railways; population (1911), 470,480. Although Montreal is some 600 miles from the sea, its commerce is extremely large, and is yearly increasing. It is the recognized commercial metropolis of the Dominion, its position at the head of ocean navigation, and at the foot of the great system of waterways which stretches by river, lake and canal far into the interior of the continent, giving it unsurpassed advantages as a distributing centre. The manufactures of Montreal comprise locomotive and railway car building works, iron foundries, distilleries, breweries, sugar refineries, engineering works and cotton and woollen mills. Here is a Board of Trade. George Hadrill, sec.

British Trade Commissioner to Canada, C. Hamilton Wickes, 3 Beaver Hall square.

TORONTO, the second city of importance in the Dominion, and the largest city and capital of the Province of ONTARIO, is situated on Lake Ontario, York Co. of which it is the county seat, on the Grand Trunk and Can. Pacific and Canadian NorthernR.Rs. The river Don flows into the lake through the eastern part of the city. Toronto has an excellent harbour, accessible to the largest craft navigating the lake. Population (1911), 376,538. Manufacturing of all kinds is extensively carried on, nearly every branch of business being represented. The wholesale importing and distributing trade of the city is of great importance, the advantages secured by its close proximity to the great through routes of travel from New York to the West, and its commanding position on the through Canadian routes, with the consequent competition of freight tariffs, as well as its central position, make it the great market for Ontario and the West. Here is a Board of Trade (F. G. Morley, sec.).

Lloyd's Agents, W. G. A. Lambe & Co. corner Scott and Front streets.

NOVA SCOTIA

NOVA SCOTIA is formed by a peninsula of about 300 miles long and 100 miles broad, with an area of about 22,000 square miles; it is situated between 43° 46' N. lat. and 61° 47' West long. and has a population of 461,847 (1911).

The principal town is Halifax, which possesses a magnificent harbour, having an area of 10 square miles. The dockyard is very extensive, and this is also the principal naval station in Canada.

Both coal and iron are plentiful. Gold and gypsum are also mined. The production of coal now amounts to about 2,500,000 tons.

The principal industries of this province consist of cutting and export of lumber, mining and exporting of coal and iron.

The Lieut.-Governor of Nova Scotia is J. D. McGregor esq.

The Agent-General in London is J. Howard esq. 57A, Pall Mall S.W.

WINNIPEG is the capital of the Province of Manitoba. The city is built at the junction of the Assiniboine and Red Rivers, 1,586 miles W. from Quebec and 1,484 from Vancouver on the west coast of the Dominion. It is the wholesale distributing centre for the entire district west to the Pacific coast and is rapidly growing in size, population and trade. There are over 240 factories, employing 16,000 hands, manufacturing principally soap, tents, overalls, lumber, boxes, tinware, chocolate, brooms, brushes, pickles, aerated waters, beer, traction engines, smaller farm implements, saddlery, harness, pumps, electrical goods, paints, coffees and spices. There are five large foundries, ten machine shops, and several large pork packing establishments. The flour mills of the city turn out 8,500 barrels of flour every day, and the oatmeal mills 500. There is a municipal power plant of 60,000 h.p. capacity. The main lines of the Canadian Pacific, Canadian Northern and also the Grand Trunk Pacific Railways run through Winnipeg, and their offices and car shops for the Western division are situated here. The population was 136,035 in 1911.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

THIS territory, which is situated on the north-west coast of North America, passed under the dominion of Great Britain in 1846 by arrangement with the United States of America. It was constituted a Crown Colony in 1858, and since 1871 has formed part of the Dominion of Canada. The seat of government is at Victoria. The average breadth of the territory is about 250 miles, the length of its coast line 450 miles, and its area (including Vancouver's Island and Queen Charlotte Island) is roughly calculated at 465,987 square miles. The total population of the united colony according to the Dominion census returns of 1911 is 362,768 The mineral resources of British Columbia are very great. Gold, silver, copper and lead are found, but the chief wealth of the province is in its coal fields, the production of which in 1909 was 2,006,476 tons, value at $7,022,666. The salmon fisheries in 1910 resulted in a pack of 764,201 cases made up as follows: Fraser River, 223,143 cases; Skeena River, 222,035 cases; Rivers Inlet, 129,398 cases; Naas River, 39,720 cases; other districts, 147,900 cases. Lumbering is carried on to a great extent, the production for 1910 being 1,040,000,000 feet, valued at $17,160,000.

Lieut.-Governor, T. W. Patterson esq.

The Agent-General in London is John Herbert Turner esq. 228, 232, 233, 236 & 237 Salisbury house, Finsbury circus E C.

ARMSTRONG (YALE DIST.) is situated in the centre of a rich agricultural district on the Shuswap and Okanagan branch of the C.P.R., 30 miles from Sicamous Junction and 14 miles from Vernon. Leading industry flour mills. Population about 1,000.

VANCOUVER.—This city is situated just inside the entrance of Burrard Inlet, on the mainland of British Columbia, and possesses a safe and commodious harbour, open at all seasons of the year. A new system of wharves, endwise from the shore, has been planned to further increase the wharfage accommodation. It is the terminus on the Pacific of the Canadian Pacific railway, with two daily trains to Montreal making the trip in 5 days, and tri-weekly Trans-Canada limited trains from and to Montreal, making the trip in 87 hours during the summer months. The Great Northern Railway has a station in Vancouver and runs 2 transcontinental trains daily, beside an express service to Portland, Ore. San Francisco and Mexico. The Northern Pacific system enters Vancouver over the C. P. R. branch line from Sumas, Wash. The B. C. Electric Railway Co. operates 100 miles of track from Vancouver in the Lower Fraser valley. It has steamer lines connecting with Japan, China, Australia, New Zealand and Mexico, also San Francisco and Puget Sound, and daily steamers to Victoria and Nanaimo on Vancouver Island, also steamers for Alaska and points along the North Pacific Coast. Steamers of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway run biweekly to Prince Rupert. The China Mutual and Ocean Steamship Co. Lines run steamers every 28 days via Suez to and from England. Canadian Pacific Railway Steamer service as follows: daily to Victoria, Nanaimo and Seattle; weekly steamer to Skagway; also numerous freight steamers sailing north to B. C. coast points every few days. Canadian-Australian Royal Mail S.S. Line: monthly to Sydney, calling at Honolulu, Suva, Auckland &c. Royal Mail steamers "Empress of India," "Empress of Japan" and "Empress of China" for Japan and China every three weeks during summer and monthly during winter months; also Royal Mail steamers on same line, making monthly trips. It is the principal seat of the lumber and salmon trades in British Columbia, and exports those articles largely to Australia, Chili, Peru, China, Great Britain and Europe. It has the only sugar refinery in Canada west of Montreal, iron works, machine shops and many smaller industries, while there are situated here the offices of many mining companies operating mines in the interior, and which draw their supplies from Vancouver. Population in 1911, 100,401; Vancouver North (1911), 7,781; Vancouver South (1911), 16,021. Here is a Board of Trade, W. A. Blair, sec.

The total value of the imports for 1912 were $49,356,161 and exports were $20,272,840.

The Bank clearings for 1912 were $650,000,000 as against $470,276,101 in 1911

These figures by no means represent the actual business of the port, the greater portion of imports going in bond to eastern points.

The total number of vessels entered and cleared during 1910-11 was 19,101 of 2,846,801 tons.

Lloyd's Agent, C. Gardiner Johnson. Capt. H. A. Mellon, Bureau Veritas and correspondent New York Board of Underwriters.

PROVINCES OF ALBERTA AND SASKATCHEWAN, NORTH-WEST TERRITORIES AND YUKON TERRITORY

ALBERTA

ALBERTA:—Established in 1905, was created from the North-West Territories, and its area, which now includes part of the unorganized district of Athabasca, is 253,540 square miles, with a population in 1911 of 372,919. The seat of government is at Edmonton. The boundaries of the province are: north, Mackenzie district; south, U. S. of America; east, Province of Saskatchewan; west, British Columbia. The province is well watered; the chief rivers being the Peace, Athabaska, Saskatchewan, Macleod, Red Deer, Battle, Pembina, Smoky and Buffalo rivers. Important wheat growing region; also cattle and horse rearing is carried on. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern Railways run through the province.

The Lieut.-Governor of Alberta is G. H. Vicars Bulyea esq.

CALGARY, on the main line Canadian Pacific and C. P. branches of Calgary and Edmonton and Calgary and MacLeod R. Rds.; also on G. T. P. and C. N. Railways; is situated about 3,388 feet above the level of the sea. It is the most important, as well as the handsomest, town between Winnipeg and Vancouver. It is the centre of the trade of the great ranching and winter wheat country, and the chief source of supply for the mining and timber districts in the mountains beyond. Lumber is largely made here from logs floated down Bow river. Here is a Board of Trade, W. H. Willson, secretary; also an Industrial & Development Bureau (Andrew Miller, commissioner and secretary). Population (1911), 43,704.

SASKATCHEWAN

SASKATCHEWAN:—Established in 1905, was created from the North-West Territories and has an area of 250,650 square miles, with a population (1911) of 453,508. From north to south the province has a length of 760 miles, while the breadth varies from 277 to 393 miles. The seat of government is at Regina. The province is traversed by the Canadian Pacific Railway and also by the Canadian Northern Railway. Like Alberta, this province is a great wheat growing and ranching region, vast herds of cattle, horses, sheep and pigs being annually reared and exported.

The Lieut.-Governor of Saskatchewan is G. W. Brown esq.

BRADSTREET'S

OFFICES THROUGHOUT THE CIVILIZED WORLD.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES:

346 and 348, Broadway, New York City, U.S.A.

THE BRADSTREET COMPANY gathers information that reflects the financial condition and the controlling circumstances of every seeker of mercantile credit. Its business may be defined as of the merchants, by the merchants, for the merchants. In procuring, verifying and promulgating information no effort is spared, and no reasonable expense considered too great that the results may justify its claim as an authority on all matters affecting commercial affairs and mercantile credit. Its offices and connections have been steadily extended, and it furnishes information concerning mercantile persons throughout the civilized world.

Subscriptions are based on the service furnished, and are available only by reputable wholesale, jobbing and manufacturing concerns and by responsible and worthy financial, fiduciary and business corporations. Specific terms may be obtained by addressing the Company at any of its offices.

ISLANDS IN THE PACIFIC

THE Fiji group of islands became British possessions in October, 1874. They number about 200, varying in size from Viti Levu and Vanua Levu, the two largest, each of which is about one-seventh the size of Ireland, to small islets not more than a mile in extent. Most of the smaller islands are surrounded by coral reefs. The whole group is scattered over a space of 240 miles north and south, by about 300 miles east and west. The total area, including the island of Rotuma, is 7,435 square miles.

The estimated population of the islands on the 31st December, 1912, was 149,179, of whom 4,131 were Europeans.

The government of the colony is carried on by the Governor (who is also His Majesty's Commissioner and Consul-General for the Western Pacific), assisted by an Executive Council.

High Commissioner for the Western Pacific, Sir Ernest Bickham Sweet-Escott K.C.M.G. Suva, who is also the Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Fiji Islands. Assistant Commissioner for the Western Pacific, Arthur Wm. Mahaffy esq.; Colonial Secretary and Receiver General of the Fiji Islands, Eyre Hutson esq. C.M.G.

The principal trade with these islands is done from Auckland and Sydney. There is also regular steam communication between the islands and Sydney, Auckland, Brisbane, Samoo and Tonga.

The principal exports consist of sugar, green fruit and copra (the dried kernel of the cocoa nut).

ROUTE.—Viâ New Zealand, Melbourne or Sydney.

Lloyd's Agents in the Fiji Islands are Morris, Hedstrom Limited (Levuka) and George Hamilton Morgan (Suva).

The Export and Import trade of Fiji during 1912 amounted to £1,999,004.

SUVA, situated on the south-coast of VITU LEVU, is the capital of the group. It has a fine harbour and is the chief port of call for all steamers going to or leaving the islands. The steamers of the Canadian Australian Royal Mail Line call on the passage each way to and from Canada and Australia. Also a coaling port, where large supplies of best Westport and Newcastle coals are to be had. In communication with Australia, New Zealand and Canada by Pacific cable and internally by wireless, three stations having been erected in the group. The most important industry of the group is the manufacture and exportation of sugar; other staple products are copra, green fruit, maize, cocoa-nuts, bêche-de-mer, rubber and pearl shell. U.S.S. Co.'s steamers call here from Australia, New Zealand, Tonga, Samoa &c. at frequent intervals. A. U. S. N. Co. steamer calls monthly from Sydney, and there is also a direct subsidised monthly service between Suva and Melbourne, by arrangement with the Union and A. U. S. N. Cos.

TONGAN ISLANDS PROTECTORATE.

THE TONGA or FRIENDLY ISLANDS constitute a kingdom which is composed of four groups of islands known as Vavau, Haapai, Tongatabu, Niua foou and Niua tobu tabu, commonly called the Niuas (Niuas), and is comprised within the limits of 15° and 23° 30′ south latitude and 173° and 177° west longitude, about 400 miles E.S.E. of Fiji. Nukualofa is the capital, and has a good wharf and good anchorage. Vavau has also a large ferro-concrete wharf and good anchorage. Population (10th October, 1912): Native Tongans, 22,291; Europeans, 380; half-castes, 234: other Pacific Islanders, 112. The total value of the Imports for 1912 was £169,472 and that of the Exports £216,511.

There are now two routes to Tonga, one of the U.S.S. Co.'s vessels leaving Sydney and Auckland alternately, crossing near Samoa, and calling at three ports in Tonga; and occasional sailing vessels from Auckland, Sydney and Samoa.

German Vice-Consul, W. v. Treskow (at Nukualofa).

ADEN

ADEN, a British possession on the north coast of the Gulf of Aden, includes the district of Shaikh Othman and Little Aden on the mainland, and is a free port. Total area about 75 square miles. Aden is of great importance as a coaling station (for vessels going to and from the East), and a distributing port, being near the entrance to the eastern end of the Red Sea. The population according to the census of 1911 was 43,500, including Shaikh Othman &c. and Perim.

The settlement is under the Bombay Government.

The principal exports are coffee, gums, hides and tobacco.

The condition of this settlement is highly prosperous, and it is the emporium of a large and growing traffic with Zanzibar and the East Coast of Africa, the interior of Arabia, Red Sea ports, and the Somali coast. A large trade is also carried on with India. The most recent addition to the trade is the export of salt in large quantities (made on scientific principles), which finds a ready sale in Calcutta, Straits and elsewhere.

The trade of Aden during 1911-12 was valued at Rupees 123,792,210.

ASCENSION

THE Island of Ascension is in the South Atlantic, in lat. 70° 57' S. and long. 14° 21' W. 700 miles N.W. of St. Helena. The area is about 35 square miles and the population is 150. It is a barren volcanic island, almost destitute of vegetation, but is of importance as a naval station. Merchant vessels are not allowed to call except in distress.

There is no trade whatever. The imports consist only of such articles as are required for consumption.

Large quantities of turtle are caught here.

THE BERMUDAS

THIS colony consists of a cluster of about 360 small islands, 18 or 20 of which are inhabited; the rest are of inconsiderable size. The largest, or Bermuda proper, contains only 20 square miles of land, and nowhere exceeds three miles in breadth. The population of the islands (1907) is estimated at 19,299. The islands are of great importance as a Naval Station. At Ireland Island, one of the group, is His Majesty's Dockyard and some other considerable naval establishments.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony is Lt.-General Sir George Mackworth Bullock K.C.B.; Colonial Secretary, Reginald Popham Lobb esq.

The only trade consists in the export of early agricultural produce to the United States. It is famous for its arrowroot, said to be the finest in the world, and this, with onions, potatoes, tomatoes and lily bulbs, constitute the exports.

The enormous disproportion between the value of the exports and that of the imports is owing to the circumstance that nearly every article required for the food or for the clothing of the entire civil population, garrison and fleet is imported from abroad, principally from the United States.

ROUTE.—There is no regular direct route from Great Britain, but there is regular weekly communication between New York and the Islands. A line running between St. John, N.B. and the West Indies, monthly, touches at Bermuda; average time of journey from England, 15 days.

HAMILTON is the chief town in the main island and the seat of government; estimated population (1910), 5,000.

BORNEO

THIS island lies midway between the Straits Settlements, the Philippine Islands, China and Australia, and is about 800 miles from north to south and about 600 miles from east to west; the land is covered by immense forests yielding valuable timber and gutta-percha trees. The portions along the west, south and east coasts belong to the Dutch; but in addition there was the Independent Malay kingdom of Brunei on the north-west coast, since transferred to the British North Borneo Co. over whose territory the British Government assumed a protectorate on May 12th, 1888, and the native kingdom of Sarawak under Rajah Brooke, over whose territory the British Government assumed a protectorate on the 14th of June, 1888. The territory of the British North Borneo Co. extends from Brunei Bay round to Sebatik Island, St. Lucia Bay.

The British Agent for the Protected States of North Borneo and Sarawak is Capt. Sir Arthur Henderson Young K.C.M.G. who is also Governor &c. of the Straits Settlements.

NORTH BORNEO

THE form of government is practically the same as in India, or other British colonies. The population, estimated at 175,000, is made up of Malays, Bajaus, Sulus, Filipinos, various tribes of Dusuns of the interior, and about 30,000 to 35,000 Chinese on the coast and planting estates.

The trade and commerce is of considerable importance. The imports in 1911 amounted to $4,603,071, and the exports to $4,836,795. The principal trading stations are Sandakan (the capital) on the east coast, and Jesselton and Kudat on the west coast. The imports fall under the following order of importance:—Rice, flour and grain, cloth, treasure, provisions, opium, ironware, spirits and wines, tobacco, sugar, kerosene oil, machinery and vessels, oils, salt, stationery, earthenware and glassware, thread and yarns, fruits and vegetables, tea, aërated waters, building materials &c. &c. The chief exports are:—Estate-grown tobacco, timber, estate rubber, cutch, coal, damar, dried fish and salt fish, rattans, sago flour, wild rubber, birds' nests, copra, fruits and cocoa-nuts, live stock &c. &c.

The manufactured products, which find their way viâ Singapore to the United Kingdom, are cutch made from mangrove bark, and sago. Tobacco (leaf) goes to Amsterdam, also timber to Europe, and rubber.

The greater portion of the imports and exports are from and to Singapore and Hong Kong, although there is considerable trade with Sulu, Palawan and neighbouring islands.

The territory is in telegraphic communication with Singapore, London and Hong Kong, viâ Labuan, and a land line has been erected to the capital. Wireless stations are in course of construction at Sandakan, Sebattik (coaling station) and Jesselton. A railway, metre gauge, runs from the west coast to the interior.

The offices of the British North Borneo Co. are at Southsea house, Threadneedle street, London (agents in Singapore, Guthrie & Co. Limited).

SANDAKAN, on the east coast, the capital of the territory, has a population of over 10,000. Communication with Singapore, distant 1,000 miles, by weekly North German Lloyd steamers. There are also two steamers regularly running between Sandakan and Hongkong, and frequent steamers to the Philippine Islands. There is also a line of coasting steamers which, with Sandakan as a base, serve the whole coast of British North Borneo, and call at Labuan fortnightly.

Sandakan has an up-to-date, if small, patent slipway, engineering works, ice factory and coal supply (at present the storage capacity is over 2,000 tons).

SARAWAK AND BRUNEI

THE territory of SARAWAK, on the north-west coast of Borneo, is under the protectorate of Great Britain, and comprises an area of about 50,000 square miles, with a population of about 600,000.

Kuching, the capital, situated on the Sarawak River about 23 miles inland, is 440 miles from Singapore, and lies about half-way between that place and Labuan.

Communication with Singapore is weekly by the Sarawak and Singapore Steamship Co. Limited.

Communication with Labuan is carried on by the Sarawak and Singapore S.S. Co. Ltd.'s steamers, which run fortnightly to Brooketon and Limbang, two Sarawak ports near Labuan.

There is now a steamer running between Hong Kong and Rejang Sarawak direct once in three months, which takes timber to Hong Kong and brings general cargo from thence.

The principal exports from Sarawak are gold, coal, gutta-percha, india rubber, rattans, sago, pepper, gambier and gutta jelutong, "engka bang," a sort of Illipe nut.

The only estates under European supervision are the Government coffee estates at Matang, Satap and Sigu; and the Borneo Co. Limited are planting gambier and para rubber (heava brasiliensis) on a large scale.

There are sago factories in Kuching.

The Government coal mines at Sadong and those at Brooketon have an output of about 40,000 tons per annum.

Lloyd's Agent, The Manager of the Borneo Co. Limited.

BRUNEI.—In 1906 the Sultan of Brunei handed over by treaty the general administration of his State to a British Resident. The area is about 3,000 square miles, and there is a population of some 25,000. The chief town, Brunei, is built over the water in one of the upper reaches of the Brunei river. Population 10,000. It has a good harbour. Rubber has been planted. Jungle produce and cutch are exported. Coal, oil, iron, gold and antimony are found. Chief imports are rice, piece goods and sugar.

KUCHING.

Here is the seat of the Government of Sarawak. There is also a Chinese Chamber of Commerce and a Chinese Court.

BRITISH GUIANA

THIS colony, on the South American continent, extending from east to west about 280 miles, includes the settlements of Demerara, Essequibo and Berbice.

The population on April 2nd, 1911, was 295,713.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the colony is Sir Walter Egerton K.C.M.G. and Government Secretary, Cecil Clementi esq. M.A.

The output of gold during 1910-11 was 54,989 ozs. and that of diamonds was 3,035 carats.

COMMERCE.—The exports consist chiefly of the produce of the sugar cane, the sugar from the county of Demerara being especially celebrated for its superior quality, also molasses and rum.

The Export and Import trade of British Guiana during 1911-12 amounted to $19,242,393.

BRITISH HONDURAS

IS the only British dependency in Central America. The area of this colony, including the islands and bays, is 7,562 square miles. The population for 1911 was estimated at 40,809.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony is W. Collet esq. C.M.G. Colonial Secretary, Robert Walter.

COMMERCE.—The soil is remarkably fertile and produces bananas, plantains, cocoa-nuts, coffee, henequen, limes, mangoes, oranges, pineapples, tobacco, rubber and sugar cane. The principal exports are mahogany, logwood, chicle, also fruit.

The principal town is Belize, with a population of 10,478 (1911).

There is regular weekly steam communication between this colony and New Orleans, by mail steamers; with London, by Scrutton's steamers ("Direct Line"), occasionally; with Liverpool, by the Harrison Line, monthly; and with Mobile every ten days. Telegrams to the colony from Europe or the United States should be sent to New Orleans to be forwarded by mail to Belize. Telegrams can also be sent direct via Payo Obispo, Mexico. A railway has been built at Commerce Bight (Stann Creek District), 25 miles long, by which fruit is now conveyed and delivered alongside steamers

Royal Mail twice a month; Elders and Fyffes' steamers weekly; also the Leyland Line from Liverpool, via Colon, arrive fortnightly, leaving for Liverpool, via Mexican ports, Vera Cruz, Tampico and New Orleans. There are also several lines of steamers running to and from New York and one line from Hamburg, the Hamburg-American, once per month. The constant communication with New York offers advantage to the traveller to break a monotonous voyage by transhipping at that port. There are four lines of steamers which leave New York for this island at an average each of about three per month; the remaining three lines arrive from Halifax, Baltimore, Boston and Philadelphia. The railway from Kingston to Port Antonio (80 miles) is now completed, as also from Montego Bay to Kingston, a distance of 120 miles. There is a regular fortnightly steamboat service round the island, going east and west in alternate fortnights.

ORA CABESSA, in the parish of St. Mary, is a shipping port of great interest to the fruit trade. Very nearly all the steamers engaged in the fruit trade, including the Elder Dempster and Elders and Fyffes Co. take bananas and citrus fruit from this port and Port Maria. St. Mary is the largest banana producing parish in the island, but nearly all the fruit exported is finally cleared at Customs from Port Antonio, the headquarters of the United Fruit Co., or Kingston, by the English S.S. lines.

CAYMAN ISLANDS are dependencies of JAMAICA. The population of these islands in June, 1911, was 5,564. The principal settlements on the island of Grand Cayman are Georgetown,the capital and a port of registry (population,1,449); West Bay (population 950) and Boddentown (population, 625). There are a number of small villages scattered all over the island. The population of the Lesser Islands (Cayman Brac and Little Cayman) is about 1,000. From these islands about 2,000,000 cocoanuts are exported per annum. The principal industries are the rearing of cattle and horses and the export of cocoanuts, cutting and shipping logwood, fustic and mahogany, and turtle catching. Vessels trade to Jamaica, Central America and the United States of America. There are large deposits of phosphate.

The total imports during 1911-12 were valued at £28,444 and the exports at £12,323.

The affairs of these islands are managed by a Commissioner, A. C. Robinson B.A. barrister-at-law.

NEVIS (ST. KITTS NEVIS)

THE area of this island is about 45 square miles, and the population in 1912 was 12,945. Sea Island cotton and sugar are the chief products, but cocoanuts and limes are now being cultivated and likely to prove favourable crops. Cocoa is also cultivated on a small scale. Principal imports consist of food stuffs, cotton goods and estates' stores. The island forms part of the presidency of St. Christopher-Nevis.

CHARLESTOWN, the chief town on the west side, has an excellent roadstead, having safe anchorage in 4 to 5 fathoms water.

There is daily communication between St. Kitts and Nevis by sailing boats.

BARBADOS

THIS colony is the most eastern of the Antilles or Caribbean islands. The extreme length is about 21 miles, and the extreme breadth about 14 miles, it having an area of about 166 square miles. The population in December, 1911, was 173,422.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the island is Sir Leslie Probyn K.C.M.G.; Colonial Secretary, Major J. A. Burdon C.M.G.

The entire industry of the island may be said to be the growing of sugar cane, and its principal exports are sugar and molasses. Within the past few years a species of glance pitch, locally called "manjak," has been mined and largely exported to Europe and the United States. Cotton is now being grown.

ROUTE.—By Royal Mail steamers, from Southampton, fortnightly; cargo boats once in four weeks; Harrison line, from Liverpool, fortnightly; Leyland line every 10th day; and the Scrutton line, from London, fortnightly. There are also regular steamers of the Quebec Steam Ship Co. to New York, about every ten days. Also a fortnightly service from Halifax, N.S., by steamers of the Pickford & Black S.S. Co. Limited. There are other lines of steamers which call at Barbados on their way to New York at irregular intervals, viz., the Booth Line, the Hamburg-American Line, and Lamport and Holt Line.

Lloyd's Agent, Harold B. Gardiner Austin, P.O. Box 67, Bridgetown.

BAHAMAS

THE Bahama Islands form an archipelago of coral limestone, extending in an irregular line from South-east Florida to Hayti and San Domingo. There are about twenty inhabited islands, and an immense number of islets and rocks; the total area is 4,466 square miles. The principal island is NEW PROVIDENCE, which contains the capital—NASSAU. The total area of the nineteen principal islands is 4,424 square miles; Andros is the largest, and contains 1,600 square miles.

The population of the islands in 1913 (January 1st) was estimated to be 56,318.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the islands is George Basil Haddon-Smith esq. C.M.G.; Colonial Secretary, W. Hart Bennett esq. C.M.G.

EXPORTS.—The principal articles of export are sponges, pineapples, also oranges, grape-fruit, shaddock, bananas, cocoa-nuts, dye-wood, Bahamas hemp (sisal), turtle shell, conch shells and small shells. The following varieties of wood are also exported, viz., braziletto, cedar, ebony, lignum vitæ, logwood, madeira, mahogany, sabica, satin wood and bark (cascarilla).

SPONGE INDUSTRY.—Sponge fishing is carried on to a considerable extent. It is estimated that there is engaged in this industry a fleet of about 500 vessels, with aggregate tonnage of 5,185, with boats attached numbering 2,463; the number of persons employed about 5,000.

SISAL CULTIVATION (Bahamas Hemp).—A notable feature in connection with the industry of the Bahamas is the sisal cultivation in the islands. The sisal fibre is a superior description of flax (agave rigida var sisalana) and experiments having proved the wonderful adaptability of the soil and climate to the cultivation of the plant, capital to a large extent is now invested in the undertaking. The industry is now thoroughly well established.

The ports of entry in the Bahamas are as follows:—Nassau, Green Turtle Cay and Hope Town, Abaco, Bimini, Governor's Harbour, Eleuthera, Harbour Island, Exuma, Rum Cay, Long Island, Long Cay, Inagua, Ragged Island, San Salvador and Watlings Island.

The whole trade from North America and Europe to the Gulf of Mexico passes by the north of these islands. Steamers bound south stem the rapid current of the Florida channel. Sailing vessels pass between Abaco and Eleuthera, through the Providence channels, within 40 miles of Nassau, into the Gulf of Florida. All the trade from North America to the eastern parts of Cuba, to Jamaica, the Gulf of Honduras, and the northern coasts of South America, passes southward to windward of the group, and close to the shore of Inagua. The return trade, and all the European trade from the same countries, passes north, either through the Crooked Island passage or the Mayaguana or Caicos channels. The Bahamas therefore lie in the tracks of two great streams of trade.

The Export and Import trade of Bahamas during 1912 amounted to £634,226.

CYPRUS

THE Island of Cyprus is administered by Great Britain under a convention with Turkey in 1878. It is situated in the extreme east of the Mediterranean, and has an area of 3,584 square miles, and a population in 1911 of 273,857. The capital is Nicosia, in the centre of the island. The principal ports are Larnaca, Limassol and Famagusta. The products of the island are grain, cotton, linseed, aniseed, wool, skins, wine and spirits, olive oil, locust beans, silk, salt and sponges. The principal industries of the island consist of silk weaving and tanning, which are carried on at Nicosia.

The High Commissioner and Commander-in-Chief is Major Sir Hamilton John Goold Adams G.C.M.G., C.B.; Chief Secretary, Capt. C. W. J. Orr.

The industry of the island is principally agricultural. Fruit and vegetables are raised in considerable quantities; also wine and spirits, principally exported to Egypt; there is also a considerable industry in sponge fishing.

The total exports during 1912 were valued at £728,988, and the imports were valued at £502,345.

FAMAGUSTA, situated on the eastern part of the island, has a protected harbour, dredged to a depth of 24 ft. over an area of about 12 acres. Quay and jetty accommodation 1,300 ft. Population, 5,331 in 1911 (with Varoshia).

FALKLAND ISLANDS

THESE islands, which are a Crown Colony of Great Britain, are situated in the South Atlantic, about 300 miles east of Magellan Straits.

The area of the East and West Falklands, South Georgia, and a few small islands is 7,500 square miles. The resources of the Falkland Islands proper are only pastoral. The population in 1912, including South Georgia, was 3,275.

Whaling is successfully carried on in South Georgia and other Dependencies.

The exports consist chiefly of wool, whale oil, tallow, hides and sheep skins and guano.

The Falkland Islands Company Limited, of London, are the largest land holders, and the trade of the islands is done with Great Britain and Norway.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief is Wm. Lamond Allardyce esq. C.M.G. ; Colonial Secretary, Capt, J. Quayle Dickson, D.S.O.

ROUTE.—By steamships of the Pacific Steam Navigation Company from Liverpool viâ Monte Video every 4 weeks and to Liverpool every 4 weeks ; time of voyage, about 27 days.

The Export and Import trade of the Falkland Islands during 1912 amounted to £717,139

DEPENDENCIES.

SOUTH GEORGIA, a group of islands 54 deg. south and 36 to 38 deg. west, is a dependency of the Falkland Islands. It has an area of about 1,000 square miles, and has of late years been the head quarters of whaling expeditions. Factories for manufacturing manure from the refuse of whales are now in process of construction. The whaling population during the season is over 1,000.

WHALING COMPANIES. (Cies. de pêche de baleine.)
Argentine Fishery Co. King Edward's Cove, Cumberland Bay
Salvesen Chr. & Co. (of Leith, Scotland), New island, West Falkland

About 30 companies are now engaged in whaling in South Georgia and other Dependencies.

SOUTH ORKNEYS, SOUTH SHETLANDS, SANDWICH ISLANDS and GRAHAM'S LAND were included as dependencies of the Falkland Islands by Letters Patent in 1908. Whaling is carried on in or about these dependencies.

GIBRALTAR

THIS important British fortress, Crown colony, and seaport, near the southern extremity of Spain, may be described as a bold headland jutting into the sea, running nearly due north and south, at the entrance of the Mediterranean, 60 miles S.E. of Cadiz. This rock forms a promontory connected with the continent by an isthmus of sand 1,500 yards long and from 950 to 1,800 yards broad. It is three miles in length from north to south by a half to three-quarters of a mile in breadth, and seven miles in circumference. Its area is about 1,266 acres. The rock rises abruptly above the sea to about 1,400 feet; on the western side the two towns are built, the northern is Gibraltar proper and the southern (the south) is known in Spanish as Europa. Gibraltar is a free port and the entrepôt for the distribution of the manufactures of the United Kingdom and of other countries to the Morocco, Algerian and Spanish ports ; it is also one of the chief coaling stations of the Mediterranean, but trade, excepting in coals, timber, flour and East Indian wheat, has diminished considerably of late years, especially since the development of direct steam communication, by Great Britain and other countries, with the ports in the vicinity. The building of dry docks and a commercial port have been carried out. There is a railway line from the neighbouring Spanish port of Algeciras (which is 5 miles distant by sea and 12 by land from Gibraltar) to Bobadilla, on the Malaga-Cordoba-Madrid line, of 177 kilometres in length. The total population in 1912 (31st December) was 23,572.

The total number of vessels which entered during 1912 was 4,022, of 6,055,465 tons.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief is Lieut.-Gen. Sir Herbert Scott Gould Miles K.C.B., C.V.O. ; Colonial Secretary, Sir Frederick Evans K.C.M.G., K.C.V.O.

GOLD COAST, see WEST AFRICAN COLONIES

HONG KONG

THE area of this, the most eastern colony of Great Britain, is 29 square miles. It consists of the Island of Hong Kong and of a portion of the mainland opposite, being the peninsula of Kowloon to a line joining Mirs Bay and Deep Bay, besides the waters of these bays and the island of Lantao. It is 40 miles from Macao and 90 from Canton. The population, including New Territories and Kowloon, in 1911 (May 20th) was 456,739.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the colony is Sir Francis Henry May K.C.M.G.; Colonial Secretary, Claud Severn esq.

Hong Kong is a free port, and there is no complete official return of the imports and exports compiled, but the value of its trade is estimated at about £50,000,000 per annum. During the year 1912 a total tonnage of 36,735,149 entered and cleared, of which 11,977,714 tons were British.

The chief industries are sugar refining, the manufacture of cotton, cement, paper, bamboo and rattan ware, carving in wood and ivory, working in copper and iron, gold beating and the production of gold, silver, and sandalwood ware, furniture making, umbrella making, jinricksha making, and large industries connected with kerosene oil, cotton, matches, ship and boat building, and especially the building of steam launches, together with all the minor industries connected with docks and ship yards, such as rope and sail making.

The trade chiefly consists in opium, cotton, sugar, salt, flour, oil, cotton and woollen goods, metals, earthenware, amber, ivory, sandalwood, betel, vegetables, granite &c. &c. There is an extensive Chinese passenger trade, now chiefly restricted, however, to the Straits Settlements, Netherlands India, Borneo, the Philippines, Siam and Indo-China.

The monetary unit of Hong Kong is the Dollar, about 2s. 1d. British and $0.50 United States.

Hong Kong possesses unrivalled steam communication. There is frequent steam communication between Java and Hong Kong. Between the ports on the east coast of China and Hong Kong steamers ply regularly, and between Manila, Saigon, Haiphong and Bangkok, and there is also constant steam communication with Hoihow, Tourane, Borneo &c. With Shanghai, Tientsin and the ports of Japan there is frequent communication. Between Hong Kong, Macao and Canton there is a daily steam service.

KOWLOON, a peninsula situated on the mainland of China, forms the northern shore of the harbour of Hong Kong, of which since 1860 it has formed a part, as well as Stonecutter's Island, Green, Aplichow, Middle and Round Islets. This territory was considerably enlarged in 1898, all the land to Deep Bay and Mirs Bay being ceded by China to Great Britain, together with the islands of Lantao, Chungchow and various others. The population of Kowloon, which is rapidly increasing, is about 30,000; that of the new territory and islands about 150,000.

WEI-HAI-WEI, an island and port in the Gulf of Pechili, which was leased on the 1st July, 1898, by China to Great Britain for an indefinite period, the lease including the island of Liu Kung and a strip on the main land about 10 miles in breadth. Population (1911) 147,177.

MALTA

MALTA is a British Colony and is the principal of a small group of islands in the Mediterranean, consisting of Malta, Gozo, and Comino.

The area of the Island of Malta, inclusive of Gozo, is 117 square miles. The length is about 17 miles and its breadth about 9 miles. The civil population on April 1st, 1912, was estimated to be 215,332.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the island is Gen. Sir Henry Macleod Leslie Rundle R.A., G.C.B., G.C.V.O., K.C.M.G., D.S.O.; Lieutenant-Governor and Chief Secretary, Major John Eugene Clauson C.V.O., C.M.G.

The central position of the island, and the splendid port of Valletta, with its impregnable fortifications, its dockyards and arsenal, renders it a naval station of the highest importance. It is usually garrisoned by a force of about 7,500 men. It is also a very important coaling station.

COMMERCE.—The principal products of the island are potatoes, fruit, corn and some cotton, which are exported principally to Great Britain. The port of Valletta is a vast entrepôt for coals, which are forwarded thence to the Mediterranean and Eastern ports.

The export and import trade of Malta during 1911-12 amounted to £2,736,403.

VALLETTA.—The harbour is large, safe and commodious, with sufficient water for the largest vessels alongside the quays. The population of the city is about 25,000. Nearly all the necessaries of life are imported.

The coal trade and the coaling steamer trade is of the greatest importance to the island.

The following are the principal dependencies of Mauritius:—

The OIL ISLANDS or COSMOLEDO ISLANDS. The chief islands are NORTH and SOUTH POLYTE, WIZARD and MENAI and DIEGO GARCIA. The latter, the most important in the group, is a coral reef 15 miles by 6½, and over 10 feet high, forming a spacious bay, where large vessels can enter, and is situated on the main line between Aden and Cape Leeuwin and affords great convenience for coaling purposes to steamers, and commercial companies have established coal depôts here.

RODRIGUES is one of the most important dependencies of Mauritius, situated at a distance of 344 nautical miles of Mauritius. The island has an area of 42 square miles and is surrounded by coral reefs. It is governed by a magistrate, who receives his instructions from the governor of Mauritius. The population on the 31st March 1911 was 4,829. The industry is fishing and cattle and goat rearing. The submarine cable connecting the Cape, Natal &c. with Australia passes through Mauritius, Rodrigues, and Cocos Island. The products are maize, beans and tobacco. The principal exports at present are salt fish, cattle, goats, pigs, tobacco and beans.

Port Mathurin and St. Gabriel are the principal towns.

A service has been established by the Government of Mauritius, by steamer or sailer, leaving Port Louis to Rodrigues and back to Port Louis in the months of April, June, August, October, November and December.

SEYCHELLES

The SEYCHELLES ISLANDS are situated between the parallels of S. lat. 4° and 5°, and the principal islands are: MAHÉ, capital Victoria, 35,520 acres; PRASLIN, 9,700 acres; SILHOUETTE, 4,900 acres; LA DIGUE, 2,500 acres; CURIEUSE, 900 acres; FÉLICITÉ, 800 acres; NORTH ISLAND, 525 acres; ST. ANNE, 500 acres; DENIS, 340 acres; CERF, 290 acres; FRIGATE, 500 acres; and BIRD or SEA COW ISLAND, 160 acres. The following islands are also dependencies of Seychelles: THE AMIRANTES, ALPHONSE ISLAND, BIJOUTIER, ST. FRANÇOIS, ST. PIERRE, the COSMOLEDO group, ASTORE, ASSUMPTION and the ALDABRA group of islands. In all, there are 89 islands under the Seychelles Government. The Seychelles Islands altogether are estimated to comprise 148½ square miles, with a population of 23,507 in December, 1912. The distance from Mauritius is 934 miles, Madagascar 600 miles and from Zanzibar 970 miles. The principal exports are vanilla, now most favourably known, cocoanut oil, cocoanuts, soap, cloves, cinnamon bark, essential oils, tortoiseshell, coprah and guano. Rubber has lately been introduced, and in time should become a valuable export. The capital, Victoria, in the north-east of Mahé, has a safe and commodious harbour. The Messageries Maritimes steamers, which leave Marseilles on the 25th of each month, call at Mahé on the 11th of the following month on their way to Mauritius; the homeward steamers call at Mahé on the 8th of each month, and are due at Marseilles on the 25th of the same month. There is a bi-monthly line of steamers of the Deutsche Ost Afrika Co. (D.O.A.L.) from Bombay to Durban, backwards and forwards, touching at Seychelles and different ports on the East Coast on both voyages. The steamers of the B. I. Company also occasionally touch here on their voyages backwards and forwards, between Bombay and Zanzibar. The Admiralty have a coaling station here; there is also a coaling depôt belonging to Messrs. Cory Bros. where passing steamers can procure coals. Station of the Eastern and South African Telegraph Company. A well-appointed lighterage company has been recently established at Mahé, affording quick despatch to vessels. An abundant supply of good water can always be procured.

Governor and Commander-in-Chief is Lieut.-Col. Charles Richard Mackey O'Brien C.M.G.

Lloyd's Agent, James Henry Brooks, Victoria, Mahé.

The Export and Import trade of The Seychelles during 1912 amounted to Rs.2,933,559.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS

THE Straits Settlements, constituting together a single British Crown colony, are situated on the islands immediately adjacent to the Malay Peninsula, at the southern extremity of which lie Singapore, the capital and principal port, and Penang and Malacca, the other ports. The area of the colony is 1,526 square miles. It comprises the island of Singapore, the town and province of Malacca, the territory of the island of Dindings, the town and island of Penang, Province Wellesley, and their dependencies. The Cocos or Keeling Islands and Christmas Island, and Labuan, situated in the Indian Ocean, were placed under the government of the Straits Settlements in 1886, 1889, and 1907 respectively. The Governor of the Straits Settlements is also High Commissioner for the Federated Malay States and High Commissioner and Consul-General for the territories of the British North Borneo Company, Brunei and Sarawak. A railway has been constructed between Singapore and Kranje, the nearest point on the island of Singapore, to Johore on the mainland. A connecting line also runs from Johore to opposite Penang, and an ultimate continuation to Rangoon is contemplated.

The population in 1911 was estimated to be 711,951.

The Governor and Commander in Chief of the Straits Settlements, including Labuan, and High Commissioner for the Protected States in the Malay Peninsula and the Protected State of Brunei and British Agent for the Protected States of North Borneo and Sarawak is Capt. Sir Arthur Henderson Young K.C.M.G.; Colonial Secretary, Richard James Wilkinson esq., C.M.G.

All descriptions of English manufactures are imported. The chief exports are tin, pepper, gambier, sugar, tapioca, sago, rubber, gutta, gums, hides, buffalo horns, mace, nutmegs, cloves, ice, coffee, sticlac, gamboge, teel seed, vegetable tallow, copra, shells, fish maws, pine apple preserved, essential oil, rattans, canes and sticks, cubebs and cocoanut oil.

The Export and Import trade of The Straits Settlements during 1911 amounted to $739,928,569.

	Imports. 1911. Dollars.	Exports. 1911. Dollars.
Live animals, foods, drinks and narcotics	147,205,714	120,505,714
Raw materials	159,222,857	172,560,000
Manufactured and partly manufactured articles	73,911,428	35,168,571
Coin and bullion	17,691,428	13,662,857

The monetary unit of the Straits Settlements is the Dollar, about 2s. 4d. British and $·5677 United States.

MALACCA is one of the oldest European Settlements in the East. It is situate on the west coast of the Peninsula, and the territory is about 42 miles in length by from 8 to 30 miles in breadth. The town of Malacca is about 120 miles distant from Singapore. The country around is very fertile, the principal products being padi, tapioca, and fruit of many kinds. Rubber is cultivated to a very considerable extent. The railway to Tampin connects with the line from Seremban to Province Wellesley, and a further extension from Singapore and Johore has been completed.

SINGAPORE.—The island is about 27 miles long by 14 miles wide, and has an area of 224 square miles. The town is situated at the southern point of the island and had a population of 303,321 according to the last (1911) census. Singapore is a great entrepôt for trade with Siam, and the numerous islands of the Archipelago.

The following are the principal local industries:—Tin smelting works, the largest in the world; the aërated water works; the ice manufactory; the canning works, producing some 220,000 cases of preserved pineapples per season.

Beside the above, there are a number of sawmills, small rice-cleaning mills and distilleries, shipbuilding yards, rubber works, and the manufacture of cocoanut oil and its by-products has now become a staple industry.

Here is a Chamber of Commerce.

KEELING-COCOS ISLANDS, placed under the government of Ceylon in 1857, in 1886 placed under British protection and self-governing colony, are situated 700 miles S. W of Java between lat. 11° 50′ to 12° 45′ S.; long. 96° 50′ E. There are large cocoanut plantations, and copra and nuts are articles of export; imports, cotton goods, agricultural implements &c. Population (1907) 710.

Superintendent & Correspondent for Lloyd's, J. S. Clunies Ross (sole owner)

THE DINDINGS, area 200 square miles, which include the island of Pangkor and a strip on the mainland, situated in 4° 15′ N. and 100° 37′ E. long. form for administrative purposes part of the settlement of Penang. The headquarters are at Lumut, with a fine deep harbour.

LABUAN. The island is situated on the north west coast of Borneo. The island produces fruit and coal—rice for its own consumption. The chief trade that which comes from the Sulu Archipelago and Borneo. The imports imported in native boats from the rivers of North Borneo, Brunei and Sarawak, on the opposite coast consist chiefly of cutch, gutta-jelutong, gutta-percha, canes, hides, rubber, sago flour and gum copal, which are shipped to Singapore. The imports consist of rice, kerosene, salt, sugar and provisions &c.

Coal is found here of good quality and in abundance; but, owing to difficulties, the mine ceased operations early in 1911. It is anticipated, however, that the colliery will be re-opened in the near future.

Bunker coal is obtainable, supplies being regularly imported from the Sarawak Government mines at Brooketon. One wharf, capable of berthing vessels drawing up to 26 feet of water and one wharf for vessels drawing up to 17 feet of water are available for steamers calling for Brooketon coal.

The total Exports during 1912 were valued at $1,117,341, and the Imports were valued at $1,236,713.

According to the census of March, 1911, the population amounted to 6,545, of which about 40 were whites, 4,000 natives and 2,505 Chinese, Indian and other Asiatics.

JOHORE

This state occupies the southern portion of the Malayan Peninsula, and has an area of about 9,000 square miles. The state is ruled by a Sultan, who is independent, but under the protection of the British Government so far as external policy is concerned. Iron is found all over the country and tin mines are exploited. Population of the state is about 200,000. The railway connecting Johore Bahru with the Federated Malay States is in course of construction.

The principal exports are gambier, tin, pepper, gutta-percha, sago, timber, rattans and damar. For almost all such produce the port of shipment is Singapore. During the past eight years a large acreage of land has been put under Para rubber cultivation.

JOHORE BAHRU or NEW JOHORE, the capital, is situated 15 miles north of Singapore, with which it is connected by a steam ferry across the Straits of Johore to Kranje, thence to Singapore by rail. Population, 25,000, mostly Chinese.

TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO

THESE islands are situated near the northern coast of Venezuela, the southern coast of Trinidad being distant only about 15 miles from the mainland, nearly opposite the mouth of the Orinoco, Tobago being distant about 20 miles to the north-east of Trinidad. The area of Trinidad is about 1,754 square miles and Tobago 120 square miles; the latter island was formerly included in the Windward Group of islands, but by an order in Council of 20th of October, 1898, Tobago was made a ward of Trinidad as from 1st January, 1899. The estimated population of the two islands in 1912 was 340,223.

The government of the Colony is carried on by the Governor, assisted by an Executive Council of six members; there is also a Legislative Body consisting of twenty-two members.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief of the Colony is Sir George Ruthven Le Hunte G.C.M.G.; Colonial Secretary, S. W. Knaggs esq. C.M.G.

COMMERCE.—The exports consist principally of sugar, molasses, rum, cocoanuts, cacao, asphalt, manjak, timber, bitters and liquors.

An asphalt lake of 90 acres exists in Trinidad about 36 miles from Port of Spain, and contains an apparently inexhaustible supply of valuable material, which is exported to a considerable extent. It was leased to an English Company for a term of twenty-one years from 1st January, 1884, and the lease has since been extended for a further 21 years from 1909.

Coal, manjak and petroleum oil have recently been discovered, and workings in regard to each of them are now in operation.

Steam vessels run constantly between Trinidad and the mainland of Venezuela.

The Export and Import trade of Trinidad and Tobago during 1911 amounted to £9,788,334.

The following figures, which are exclusive of transhipments, show the direction and value of the export and import trade:—

	Exports. 1911. £	Imports. 1911. £
United Kingdom	514,832	1,026,070
Canada	206,133	190,287
Other British Posessions	97,968	200,278
United States	1,045,507	806,921
Venezuela	76,044	294,257
France	277,813	66,619
Germany	96,435	48,260
Other Countries	191,306	122,708
Total	2,506,038	2,755,400

ROUTE.—By R.M.S.P. Co. from Southampton, also Leyland Line and Harrison Line steamers from Liverpool about every week. Scrutton's London and Glasgow Direct steamers from London and Glasgow. Average time of journey, 15 days.

ARIMA. Population, 4,076. Is connected by rail with Port of Spain. Cocoa and sugar are produced in the district around.

PORT OF SPAIN, the chief town and port of entry, has a population, including suburbs, of about 70,000 inhabitants. The harbour is the finest in the West Indies and out of the range of hurricanes. Many steamers touch here in their route going and returning to Central and South America, and there is a regular communication between the island and New York by The Trinidad Line. The Royal Mail steamers now call at Barbados, Trinidad, Pto. Colombia, Colon, Jamaica, Cuba and New York, returning same way, with headquarters in Port of Spain. Also the steamers of the following lines:—Harrison Line, Leyland Line, Pickford and Black Steamship Co., Compagnie Générale Transatlantique, London Direct Line, Glasgow Direct Line, Orinoco Line, Hamburg-American Line, "La Veloce" Italian Navigation Co., Lamport & Holt Line, Prince Line, Houston Line. There is telegraphic communication by means of the West India and Panama Telegraphic Company. Here is a Chamber of Commerce.

WEST AFRICAN COLONIES

SIERRA LEONE

THE area of this Colony and Protectorate, which is one of the most important of our possessions on the West coast, is about 31,000 square miles, with a coast line of 210 miles. It is bounded on the north and north-east by French Guinea, on the south-east by the Republic of Liberia, and on the west by the Atlantic Ocean. It is divided for the purposes of administration into the Colony and Protectorate. Roughly speaking the Colony comprises the coast line, and the Protectorate the hinterland of Sierra Leone. The Protectorate is divided into six districts as follows: Karene district, headquarters Batkanu; Headquarters district, headquarters, Waterloo; Ronietta district, headquarters Moyamba; Railway district, headquarters Kennema; Koinadugu district, headquarters Kaballa; Northern Sherbro district, headquarters Pujehun. The population, according to the census of 1911, was 75,572 (excluding the Protectorate). The population of the Protectorate, according to the census of 1911, was 1,327,560.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief is Sir Edward Marsh Merewether K.C.V.O., C.M.G.; Colonial Secretary, Alfred Claud Hollis esq. C.M.G.

FREETOWN is the capital and principal port of Sierra Leone.

The imports in 1912 were to the value of £1,424,864, and the exports £1,540,754. A larger number of ships enter here than at any other of the British ports on the West coast. The exports consist chiefly of palm oil and kernels, kola nuts, ginger, gum copal, rice, piassava and rubber.

ROUTE.—By the British and African and the African Steam Navigation Companies' steamers from Liverpool weekly; average time of journey, 11 days; also by the steamers of the Woermann line from Hamburg, via Dover, bi-monthly.

BO, in the Railway district, is one of the chief industrial centres of the Protectorate, situated on the Sierra Leone Government railway from Freetown to Baiima, 137 miles from Freetown.

GOLD COAST

THE Gold Coast is the name generally given to a portion of Upper Guinea. The length of coast-line is about 350 miles. The area of the colony is 24,200 square miles; of Ashanti 20,000 square miles, and of the Northern Territories 35,800 square miles.

The British Gold Coast extends from the Volta river to the French Settlement of Assinie on the west. The colony includes the best landing places and the richest gold districts in Guinea. The population, including Ashanti and the Northern territories, was in 1911, 1,503,386, of whom 1,625 were Europeans.

The Governor & Commander-in-Chief is Sir Hugh Charles Clifford K.C.M.G.; Colonial Secretary, Major Herbert Bryan C.M.G.

The Chief Commissioner of the Northern Territories of the Gold Coast is Capt. Cecil Hamilton Armitage C.M.G., D.S.O. Headquarters of the Administration, Tamale.

The Chief Commissioner of Ashanti is F. C. Fuller esq. C.M.G.

The principal imports are cotton goods, hardware, coal, wearing apparel, provisions, machinery, spirits, tobacco and lumber. The principal exports are gold, palm oil, palm kernels, copra, rubber, ivory, native timber, cocoa, kola nuts and raw cotton.

ROUTE.—By the British and African and the African Steam Navigation Companies' mail steamers from Liverpool every Wednesday, calling at Sierra Leone, Monrovia, Axim, Seccondee, Cape Coast and Accra; average time of journey, 14 to 15 days. These companies also despatch cargo steamers every alternate Wednesday and fourth Thursday from Liverpool, the Wednesday steamers calling at the principal Gold Coast ports and the Thursday steamers at all Gold Coast ports outwards and homewards. Length of the voyage, Liverpool to Accra, varies from 30 to 37 days. By the Woermann Line steamers scheduled to leave Dover on the 11th and 26th of each month with passengers and mails for Seccondee and Accra, the duration of the voyage being about 15 days. Cargo services of this line leave Hamburg for the Gold Coast on the 1st, 3rd, 15th and 30th of each month.

ACCRA is the seat of the government. It is almost exactly on the meridian of Greenwich, the precise degree being about 14 miles east of Christiansborg Castle. This district begins at the Sekkum river on the west, and stretches eastward as far as and including the town of Teshi. The town of Accra with its suburb Victoriaborg has a population of about 17,000; while Christiansborg numbers about 2,800. The principal imports consist of rum, gin, tobacco, cotton goods, provisions and building materials. The most valuable export is cocoa, others being rubber, palm oil and kernels, bar gold and kola nuts.

GAMBIA

The Colony and Protectorate of the Gambia, the most northerly of the British West African dependencies, comprises both banks of the river Gambia (from the north inland) due east to a small village on the north bank some three miles above Koina, where the French sphere of influence is reached. It contains some 3,620 square miles. The population in 1911 (including the Protectorate) was 146,101 (colony only 7,700).

The staple export, ground nuts, is almost exclusively shipped to France; minor exports are india rubber, hides, palm kernels, wax, calabashes and ivory.

Governor and Commander-in-Chief, Lieut.-Col. Sir Henry Lionel Galway K.C.M.G., D.S.O.; Colonial Secretary, W. Telfer Campbell esq.

ROUTE.—By British and African Steam Navigation Co.'s and African Steam Ship Co 's steamers from Liverpool fortnightly; average time of journey, about 14 days.

The Export and Import trade of Gambia during 1912 amounted to £1,492,025.

WALFISH BAY

WALFISH BAY is on the coast of Great Namaqualand. The coast line forms here a curve to the west, from the xtremity of which a low sand spit, about five miles in length, runs due north, and completely protects a large sheet of water from the swell of the Atlantic. The spit is about a mile and a half in width, but, being composed of sand only, it is continually changing its outlines and particularly the position of its apex, which is known as Pelican Point. The prevailing winds are from the east and the south-west, and the bay being open to the north only, the anchorage is at all times regarded as perfectly safe. The area is 430 square miles, and the population in 1911 was 3,223.

Walfish Bay is, politically, part of Cape Colony. It is the most practicable port of access for the German Protectorate of South West Africa, north of Angra Pequina, 200 miles south. It is a free port. Chief trade with Cape Town. Communication kept up by steamer once in three weeks. Direct communication every four weeks with Hamburg by Woermann steamers, which extend their voyage to Cape Town and return, and occasionally, when inducement offers, with Southampton and London by Union-Castle Steamship Co.'s intermediate steamers. Port frequently visited by British and foreign war vessels. Is of great value politically to the British Empire as the key of the German S.W. African Protectorate, the trade of which it must command. Landing is safe and easy at all times.

The port is also a coaling station, where coal may be obtained at a cheap rate.

Resident Magistrate, H. von Gerard.

Lloyd's Sub-Agents, Mertens & Sichel.

NORTHERN NIGERIA

THIS territory is bounded on the north by the French Soudan; on the west by French Dahomey; on the south-west by S. Nigeria; on the east and south-east by the German Cameroons, and on the south by Southern Nigeria. The river Niger runs through the western portion of the territory and the river Benue through the southern portion. The official capital is Zungeru. The principal towns are Ankpa, Bauchi, Bida, Gujba, Ibi, Ilorin, Kano, Katagum, Katsina, Keffi, Kontagora, Lokoja, Maidugari, Sokoto, Yola and Zaria. The area is about 255,700 square miles. The native population in 1912 was estimated to be 9,611,941.

The produce exported through the ports of Southern Nigeria consists of palm kernels, rubber, ground nuts, shea nuts, tin ore and gum arabic. The imports consist chiefly of salt, provisions, kola nuts and cotton goods.

TRANSPORT.—The Government maintain a fleet of five large cargo and passenger vessels, three powerful tugs and twelve 80-ton barges, besides numerous small craft on which traders (excepting those mentioned below) prospectors and others depend for their transport. The Niger Co. maintain a large flotilla, principally for their own purposes, John Holt & Co. (Liverpool) Ltd. possess a small fleet and L. Pagenstecher & Co. one large steamer and one small, also for their own purposes. The Government, the Niger Co. or the Bank of British West Africa Limited will act as agents at Burutu, Southern Nigeria (depôt for Northern Nigeria), receiving goods from ocean steamers, passing customs entries and forwarding goods to their destination. Marine Superintendent, Lieut. Coulton Elliott R.N.R.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief is Sir Frederick John Dealtry Lugard G.C.M.G.,C.B.,D.S.O.; C. L. Temple esq. C.M.G. Chief Secretary.

The Export and Import trade of Northern Nigeria during 1910-11 amounted to £468,000.

SOUTHERN NIGERIA

The colony and protectorate of SOUTHERN NIGERIA, comprising an area estimated at 77,000 square miles, has been formed by the amalgamation of the two administrations of Lagos and Southern Nigeria.

The territory for purposes of administration has been divided into three Provinces: (1) the Western or Lagos Province, comprising the former Colony and Protectorate of Lagos, with headquarters at Lagos, having an area of about 28,000 square miles; (2) the Central or Niger Province, with headquarters at Warri; (3) the Eastern or Calabar Province, with headquarters at Calabar. Each of these Provinces is administered by a Provincial Commissioner under the direction of the Governor.

The headquarters of the whole administration has been established at Lagos. The total native population in 1911 was estimated to be: Western Province, 2,151,483: Central Province, 2,407,664; Eastern Province, 3,296,602, and the European population was 1,648. The principal imports are cotton goods and spirits, while the exports are chiefly palm oil and kernels, rubber, timber (mahogany), cotton, cocoa and maize.

The African and British and African mail steamers (joint agents, W. A. E. Evans and J. R. U. Little), call weekly at Lagos from and for Liverpool, also Woermann S.S. Co. (agent P. Brünger), from Hamburg. Other lines call from Germany.

The Governor and Commander-in-Chief is Sir Frederick John Dealtry Lugard G.C.M.G., C.B., D.S.O.; Colonial Secretary, Alex. George Boyle esq. C.M.G.

The export and import trade of Southern Nigeria during 1912 amounted to £12,519,576.

ALBANIA

THIS kingdom was formed in 1913 out of the old Turkish province of Albania, as a consequence of the war between Turkey and Bulgaria, Greece, Servia and Montenegro. The country, which extends from Montenegro on the north to the Gulf of Arta on the south, is bounded by the Adriatic on the west and by the Shah Dahr and the mountains running south from that range. The population, which is almost entirely Mahommedan, is estimated at about 2,000,000. The principal exports are olive oil, tobacco, wool, shumac, hides and skins, nuts, timber, maize, hemp, valonia, cattle and horses, and the principal imports are cotton and woollen goods, hardware &c. &c.

AVLONA (or VALONA), a small seaport opposite to Brindisi, with 7,000 inhabitants, imports great quantities of cotton and woollen cloths; exports—olive oil, wools, butter, skins, pulses.

The monetary unit of Austria is the krone, about 10d. British and 8·203 United States.

AUSTRIA

The empire of Austria comprises 14 provinces, with an area of 115,903 square miles, and had in 1910 a population of 28,567,898.

The great bulk of the trade, both import and export, is with the German Empire, amounting to about one-third of the whole, the United Kingdom and Italy being next.

COMMERCE.—Austria is exceedingly rich in minerals of every description, including copper, gold, silver, quicksilver, nickel, lead, tin, zinc, antimony &c. &c. Coal and iron form the principal mining products, being 75 per cent. in value of the whole.

One of Austria's great sources of wealth is wood, and the principal wood-producing provinces are Bukovina and Bohemia.

Rock salt exists in immense beds. Petroleum is found in large quantities in Galicia. In the production of wine Austria is second only to France; very little of this wine is exported, the amount imported being almost equal. Flax, hemp, tobacco and hops are cultivated.

The imports embrace every description of goods and merchandise, and consist principally of coffee, fruit, cereals, rice cattle, eggs, lard, fish, wine, coal, minerals, dyeing materials, raw cotton, cotton yarn and goods, flax, hemp and jute, raw wool and silk, iron, chemicals, woollen yarn and goods, silk goods, paper, leather and machines. Agricultural produce forms the chief Austrian export, and consists of sugar, barley, wheat, malt, seeds, cattle, eggs, beer &c.

Amongst the manufactures a prominent place is taken by the following: Textile goods, fine leather goods, gloves, china and glassware, hardware and fancy goods, beet sugar, paper, hats, ironware, garments and linen, boots and shoes &c.

The glass industry is very important. This Industry has been established in Bohemia for over two centuries, and there are now in Bohemia a large number of glass works and grinding establishments. The chief factories for producing plate and mirror glass are situated near Pilsen.
